.....WILD HORSES COMING SOON TO COLUMBUS, OHIO.....

On February 11 and 12, 2006, the Bureau of Land Management-Eastern States (BLM-ES) will offer more than 100 young horses for adoption at the Cooper Arena at the Ohio Expo Center & State Fair in Columbus, Ohio. "We are bringing some exceptional horses from the Western ranges, and you can adopt one for $125," said BLM-ES State Director Mike Nedd.

The animals will arrive on Friday, February 10, 2006, with viewing hours Friday between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. The scheduled hours for the adoption are from 8:00 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, February 11, 2006, and 8:00 a.m. to noon, Sunday, February 12, 2006.

Once gentled, wild horses are often used for trail riding, dressage, hunter/jumper, and western events by people who have adopted them. Mustangs are noted for their endurance, sure-footedness and intelligence.

All animals available for adoption have been examined by a veterinarian, vaccinated, de-wormed, and blood-tested. Since the Adopt-A-Wild Horse & Burro Program began in 1973, more than 205,000 animals have been adopted.

Prospective adopters must have sturdy corrals, 20' x 20', at least 6 feet high for an adult horse and at least 5 feet high for burros and horses younger than 18 months, shelter, transportation, and the means of caring for the animals. Adopters must provide their own stock-type, step up trailer (ramps or split two-horse type trailers are not allowed). BLM-ES staff will sort, halter and load animals onto the adopters' trailers.

The adoption will be by lottery, with the adoption fee of $125 per animal. The lottery will be conducted as a blind drawing with the individual drawing number 1 having first choice and succeeding numbers having their choice in numerical order.

Applications to adopt will be reviewed Friday afternoon and Saturday. Adopters are encouraged to pre-qualify by calling 1-800-293-1781 before the adoption for information. Animals not adopted during the Saturday morning lottery will be offered for the $125 adoption fee on a first-come basis.

Directions: Take I-71 to exit 111 (17th Ave). Go west to the entrance.
